TUNE: "Just a Cottage Small"

Now the time has come for our parting;
O! how swiftly the years have flown!
The beginning of a new life we're starting
Facing life in this world un-be-known?
So dear Commerce High we must leave you
And the friends that we all love so dear;
Every day we're away we will grieve for you
And the happy hours we spent here.

(CHORUS)

Goodbye, Commerce High and dear faculty
You have done so much for us,
Mr. Ellis too, our dear principal,
You have been our father and friend.
Tho' we're away this time to stay,
Commerce we'll be staunch and true;
So we say goodbye to old Commerce High
And dear friends, goodbye to you.

Class History

January 10, 1930

DEAREST ANNA:

I was very glad to hear that you were promoted to a better position in the office, and that you are being paid one of the highest salaries. It pays to go through high school, doesn't it?

Yesterday when I was up in the attic looking over some of my old belongings, I came across my school books, which I had saved for fear I would forget something on different subjects. I sat down and began thinking of the first time I entered dear old Commerce.

It was a bright sunny day in February, 1925, and the city was covered with a light blanket of snow. I arrived at Commerce at 8 o'clock fearing I might miss something. As I waited at the side door I watched the students getting off the trolley cars. Oh, wasn't it thrilling! The door opened and I rushed up the stairs to find my room. After circling the corridors a few times, I was so confused and eager that I nearly knocked over a couple of girls. Finally I followed a crowd of students up the stairs and found the long-looked-for room right ahead of me. I went in, and there I stuck, as I was afraid I'd get lost again if I went out. Then you came in. Remember? We greeted each other, thankful that we could be together. Wasn't that an exciting day though?

Weren't we astonished when we saw how large our class was when we had our first class meeting? Who were elected as our first class officers? If I'm not mistaken those chosen were:

President—Walter Drake Secretary—Helen Shea

Treasurer—Madeline Lambert

We went to the Freshman Reception together, didn't we? Oh Boy! Talk about fun! That play which was given was simply great.

When we became IIB's we looked forward to the dance. At last that long-waited-for day came. I never expected such a crowd. I remember the gym was decorated with yellow and white streamers. The entertainment was a song and dance by a number of girls belonging to the Glee Club. Nicholas Pilalos' Orchestra furnished delightful music. Hazel Peck played a violin solo. It all ended too soon. I hated to leave and so did you, for we certainly had our good time.

Wasn't that election fun? We voted as they vote for the city officers, only we went down to the basement on the south west side of the school. Here we received ballots. We went to a booth and voted; then we walked over to a large box and put our ballots in there. All the while special officers (really students) watched to see that no one cast two or more ballots for his favorites. The officers chosen were:

President—Walter Drake Vice-President—Estella Mudge

Secretary—Thelma Bartlett Treasurer—Methyl Gifford

Auditor—Doris Hall

The IIA Dance was another success. Groups of boys and girls glided in, dressed in pretty costumes, for this was to be our Halloween Masquerade. The gym was decorated in orange and black. Prizes were to be given to the girl and boy who wore the best costume. Eleanor Broadhurst, dressed in an old-fashioned costume, won the prize for the best girl costume, and Donald Lane, dressed as a convict, was awarded the prize put up for the boys. The prizes were boxes of chocolates. Didn't we have a wonderful time? I'll say we did.

The assembly hall lights were low and whispers were heard here and there. Mr. Ellis stood on the platform watching over us. The middle aisle seats were reserved for our guests. Do you recall this special assembly? I'll bet you do. The Christmas Assembly—of course! After the singing, the curtain went up and do you remember who was there? "Bobby" Smith in the role of Santa Claus. Wasn't it funny though? After a miscellaneous entertainment the gifts were distributed to our guests.

Seniors! Oh, such dignified Seniors. Could it possibly be true? At last we had reached the height of one of our many ambitions. Yes, it was true, we were Seniors at last. We had to give the Freshman Reception that year.

Before we knew it election time was here again. Those elected were:

President—Hazel Peck Vice-President—Elizabeth Modig

Secretary—Gladys Kiefer Treasurer—Methyl Gifford

Auditor—Florence Simpson

Then followed the IIIB Hop, which was a gala affair, with our new officers in charge, and every one was laughing gaily and joking. Rhea Martens, that noted dancer, danced the Black Bottom for us. As usual, the fun ended too soon.

Oh! I nearly forgot the time we bought our arm bands. I have to laugh when I think of it. We certainly did strut down the corridors showing the Juniors and Freshmen that we were their superiors, that we were the dignified Seniors! The poor Freshies would look at us and whisper, "Oh! Look! She's a Senior!" That made us all the more proud to belong to the class of February 1928.

November 10! How well we can remember that day! We marched into assembly in our caps and gowns. Oh! Weren't we dignified! Our class gave a play entitled, "Squire Judkin's Apple Bee." The Will was read and it furnished a great deal of amusement for the students and teachers. We marched out of the assembly hall; some laughing, some nearly crying. It certainly was a great day, and it will never fade from my memory.

Goodness! It's time for dinner, but I haven't finished my reminiscences. I'll finish hurriedly.

Remember the prom! Wasn't that simply gorgeous? As long as I live I will never forget the beautiful gowns the girls wore, or the splendid appearance of our boys.

We could never forget that wonderful banquet, at the Hotel Kimball, where the tables were filled with laughing students chattering gaily, and all entering into the spirit of our last informal meeting as a class.

Weren't we solemn looking bodies the day of graduation? We walked up that aisle like models. But, it didn't last long; we were out soon and our faces were wreathed in smiles.

Wouldn't you just love to go back and live a few of these school activities over again? I certainly would!

Whew! My chops are burning. I'll write you again soon.

Your loving classmate,

MARY NAPOLITAN.

Prophecy of the Class of January, 1928

TIME—1938

OCCASION—The tenth anniversary of the graduation of the January Class of 1928.

Two members of the class have undertaken the responsibility of this reunion. It has been decided that a trip to Europe in a passenger airship would be the best way of getting together and would be a real adventure to most of them.

Upon receiving the addresses of the members of the class, which were obtained from "Commerce", Roy has sent invitations to all the boys, and Helen has sent them to all the girls. The time for the replies is here. Although an answer has not been received from all of the members, almost all of them who are in the United States have written and have accepted the invitation with much pleasure. Those in foreign countries have written that they will meet us in Europe.

Eleanor Cooke and Stella Davies are proprietors of an exclusive New York shop, and they are doing their own designing. Their talent for this line of work was displayed at Commerce. They have as clerks, Florence Mesick, and Jessie Livingston. Lillian Guertin is their model.

Richard Tarrant is a follies' producer. His latest is "What'll I do?" He is supported by Ethel Smith.

Eleanor White and Isabel Nicoli are running a large beauty parlor in San Francisco. They are their own advertisements.

Thelma Bartlett, who is married to a prominent society man (none other than Gordon Davin), will be unable to take the trip because her governess is away.

Cecile Skvirsky, Ida Solomon, Rebecca Pilnick, Sylvia Petlock, and Rose Slove are glad to accept the invitation because they need a vacation after their lecture tour through the United States.

Rose Goldring is now ranked among the highest contemporary novelists. Her latest novel which has brought her fame is "Bluffing." She was inspired to write this novel after an experience she had with Florence Wheldon.

Good natured Elma Hall is teaching in California.

Clara Aiken has recently discovered "Why girls are made to cry so easily." She has already overcome the affliction.

Clayton Rogers, after inheriting a million dollars, is still a heart breaker.

The affairs of the Standard Oil are now being managed by Elizabeth Modig. It was the only corporation large enough to give her executive ability full play.

Florence Patnaude is a teacher of elocution. Among her pupils are Doris Beaudry, Jennie Kaufman, Milton Sprague, and Dorothy Baskin.

Ovagam Tarpinian is in the rug business in Persia. He will meet us in London.

Estella Mudge has invited us to visit her in Spain, where she is living with her husband, a Spaniard of the royalty. Her high ideas would not allow her to be pacified elsewhere.

Martin Meyers keeps American tourists at Monte Carlo supplied with peanuts.

Lillian Sladofsky and Liberda Claing were so enthused by Mr. A. H. Smith that they have continued with Economics. They are teaching in the University of Wisconsin. Dorris Hall is doing this kind of work too. But at present, she is giving lectures to men of Household Economics.

Luvie and Laurence McManus, our red-headed twins, are still together. This time, they are on the stage showing that they are a much alike as ever.

Beatrice Snow is a noted composer of music. Previous experience started her along this line.

Lester Oberheim has been the national feather-weight champion for ten years now and we hope he will continue to hold this title.

PROPHECY (Continued)

Marion Hamilton has concocted a liquid hair tonic for the benefit of those who have boyish bobs. It looks as though it had not worked or else she hasn't tried it on herself yet.

Curtis Moquin, who is now a real preacher of the Christian Doctrine, says he cannot fly with us but that he will be at the field to send us off with a blessing.

"Ed" Linder, the author of the famous book, "Why I married a Chorus Girl," will tell us the reason at the reunion.

Clyde Gill, the national tennis champion, has been able to leave his tennis activities to accompany us on our trip.

Bertha Labrovitz and Marguerite Perron will meet us in Paris. They are singing in the Grand Opera.

Deno Bertocki, the pilot on our flight, has been up in the air so much that St. Peter knows him personally.

Doris Bryson, Clara Bunnell, and Methyl Gifford have invited us to attend the golf finals to be played between them and three Scotch lassies at St. Andrews Green in Scotland.

We have been informed that Mildred Youmell is going to swim the English Channel for the tenth time. We will try to witness this event also.

The "Irish Club" of the Springfield Police Force, made up of Joseph Radding, David Lewis, and David Black have sent word that they would be on hand for the flight.

Esther Stookins has made millions on her new invention, the three-in-one vanity case.

Margaret Treganowan has been staging a fashion show. Not fashions of 1938 but of 1789. Her outstanding exhibit so far has been the Martha Washington head dress.

Hazel Peck will not be able to accompany us because her duties as editor of the "NEW YORK TIMES" will not permit her.

John Rossi is married. He has grown only a foot since Commerce days. He and his midget wife (Marge Everett) are sorry that they cannot come with us because they are in the circus.

Howard Fasser has become heir to a Swiss castle and invites us to visit him there.

Mary Backus has followed in the footsteps of her ancestors. She is a fur seller in New York. "Jerry" Quilty too has followed her ancestors. She is a member of the secret service detective agency in Chicago.

Thomas Corliss is now a Doctor of Divinity and is preaching to the Chinese orphans.

Bernard McMahon is in Alaska showing the seals how to miss the hunters.

Everett Todd hasn't forgotten how to play baseball. He is on one of the major leagues this year. Why couldn't he remember other things like this?

Zelda Zimmerman has won the title of the World's Fastest Talker from Ella Conners.

Robert Smith is a radio announcer. He sends out his messages in the form of bed-time stories.

Richard Murphy has a long white beard. He's Santa Claus at Christmas time. The rest of the year he lives on the interest of his money, at Long Beach, California.

Jennie Krauss and Bessie Kronick have tied for first place for the title of "Miss America."

Raymond Sabin is a song writer. His most famous is the banana song "Hanging Out With The Bunch."

Raymond Monahan plays in the movies. His latest is entitled: "With Ivory Soap, Wash Behind Your Ears."

We will be furnished music on our trip by the famous Traveling Symphony Orchestra directed by Anna Richter. Nick Pilalas is the leading violinist. Marion Roberts, too, is in this orchestra. It is not certain what part she takes, but is all right so long as she is with Anna.

Here's one for you. We received a letter headed "Frederick Rathbun, Lawyer," and here's the rest. "Save room for two". Signed, "Fred and Madeline Rathbun." That must be Madeline Lambert.

Eddie Kadzik will stop giving lessons of the Angels' Glide long enough to come with us to visit Dickinson's Dream Palace and see how Art is doing.

James McNulty writes from the Fiji Islands that his rubber (neck) business is being overworked, but he will join us at Paris.

Harley Shastany, after receiving his F. O. B. (full of Boloney) degree from Springfield College, is showing the Africans how to catch in baseball.

Frances Biscotti doesn't have to work any more, having made a fortune on some kind of a rub-down liquid which has effects similar to those of Absorbine Jr., which she was quite familiar with.

Eva Lynes was a lawyer but has given up the profession to enter that of home-making, she having recently become a Mrs. Philip Griffin.

Karin Lindfors has gone back to her native land, Finland, but not alone.

David Berg writes that his part in the comedy, "The Rocky Roads to Dublin" is so important that he cannot leave it. He is the detour.

A cablegram has arrived from the leading music teacher of India, who is none other than Bob McGraw, stating that he will be at the landing field in London to meet us.

Gladys Kiefer is now secretary to the American Ambassador to Germany (Henry Batt).

Harry Hersh will go to Paris from Armenia where he is engaged in farming.

Eva Croto is running the largest department store in Longmeadow. Her line of goods includes anything from pins to horses.

Rose Vartanian and Annabelle Williamson are engaged in bulb culture in Holland. They expect to meet us in London.

Little Sarah Rock is doing research work in the British Museum in London. Big things come in small packages, they say.

Fannie Roshin, Gussie Yelin, and Ruth Willer, fruit growers of Brazil, are very prosperous. They specialize in the cultivation of straight bananas.

Many of our class are school ma'ms. Lanky Alice Steele is teaching modern civilization in Africa. Gentle, loving Lillian Cross is a kindergarten teacher in Greenland. Ruth Kawkins and Rose Levine are teaching beauty culture in Egypt.

Margaret Kirkaldy is doing well as a stenographer to the president of the United States Steel Company. Her own system of shorthand has proved successful.

Calm Lucille Crossett is a mother to scores of children—not her own. She manages an orphanage. Who would have "thunk" it?

"Bunny" Miller and Rhea Martin own a hotel in Miami.

Lillian Mirkin has recently succeeded in proving a mystery about a former classmate of hers, Blanche Badyin. She did not say what it was.

Madeline Dougherty is a model for the worth Designers in Paris. She is going to meet us there.

We find that Mary Pouchot has been in partnership with Helen Hall more or less since they graduated, and has become very successful. They are nurses. Mary (Giggles) tends the quiet, half-dead patients, while calm Helen tends the excited "high-strung" patients.

Florence Simpson has at last attained her goal (that of running something). She is the head of the American Federation of Labor.

We left Roosevelt Field, New York, on the 30th. of May, and had a very pleasant trip across with out any accidents. We traveled continually while over there, and met all of our classmates that we had expected to meet. We left for home again on the first of August.

All home safe and sound, we feel that our tenth reunion was a real success and hope to have another in a few years.

Class of January, 1928

Class Will

Know All Men by These Presents, that we, the Class of January 1928 of the High School of Commerce, city of Springfield, county of Hampden, Commonweatlh of Massachusetts, realizing the uncertainty of life and being of sound mind, memory, and judgment, do hereby make, declare and publish this to be our last will and testament, revoking and renouncing all former wills and testaments by us at any time heretofore made; and do earnestly desire that these, our last requests, be carried out as hereinafter directed.

First. To Mr. Carlos B. Ellis, our principal, we give and bequeath our most sincere respect and deepest gratitude.

Second. To Mrs. Rena P. Bartlett, our faculty adviser, we leave our warmest appreciation for her untiring efforts in all our undertakings.

Third. To Miss Hazel K. Miller, our assistant faculty adviser, we bequeath our deepest thankfulness for all her efforts in our activities.

Fourth. To the faculty we leave our appreciation for helping us through our years at Commerce.

Fifth. To the underclassmen we leave our ability to be unconcerned and dignified under any circumstances which may arise.

Sixth. Martin Meyers leaves this box of wise crackers to Walter Drake, who is well started on his career as a wise cracker.

Seventh. To Mr. Melville the Senior Class leaves this new line with the earnest hope that it will be used in the future.

Eighth. Leroy Blanchard leaves his lovely girlish charm to Richard King.

Ninth. To Margaret Oliver, Eleanor Cooke leaves her school-girl complexion with this cake of Palmolive Soap to insure its continued success.

Tenth. To Mary Hynes and Ann Kelleher, Doris Bryson and Methyl Gifford leave their friendship.

Eleventh. To Mr. S. O. Smith, the best teacher of English in the school, we leave this book which should prove to be a great help to him.

Twelfth. Curtis Moquin leaves his ability to bluff and not get away with it to Stuart Dennis.

Thirteenth. To Rhea Martens, Rhea Martin leaves her mode of dancing such as it is.

Fourteenth. Madeline Dougherty leaves to Doris Larson her knowledge of "why gentlemen prefer blondes" which was formerly willed to her by Gertrude Fitzgerald.

Fifteenth. To Bernardo Campagna, President of the IIIB Class, Hazel Peck leaves this gavel.

Sixteenth. To the IIIB Class we leave our seats in the assembly, with the hope that they will adorn them as gracefully as the present Senior Class.

Seventeenth. Sylvia Petlock leaves this nickel with Miss Geary to start a fund for the repair of clothing caught and torn on the lunch room stools.

Eighteenth. Robert Smith leaves his ability to chew gum all day undetected to Delia Brunette, with this package of gum to practice on.

Nineteenth. Harley Shastany and Nick Pilalas bestow on Miss Lewis this book of directions on how to run a Ford. We hope it will come in handy.

Twentieth. Everett Todd leaves his bashfulness to "Bobby" Elliot.

Twenty-First. We leave this fine medal for braving the sea of matrimony to "Chief" Meyers.

Twenty-Second. Marguerite Perron and Methyl Gifford leave their patent on how to clean typewriters, to Miss Nelligan.

Twenty-Third. To Miss Donlan we leave this box of animal crackers which we think may help her keep her next senior home room quiet.

Twenty-Fourth. Edgar Fredette leaves his ability to politely or impolitely detain any man on an opposing team on the football field to Leslie Maynard.

Twenty-Fifth. Raymond Sabin bequeaths his position, posing for Arrow Collars, to Douglas Robertson.

Twenty-Sixth. Dick Tarrant gives to "Chick" Lynes this list of his girls.

Twenty-Seventh. To Miss Fisher we give this book of answers so that she may be better prepared to answer questions which the freshmen ask.

Twenty-Eighth. To Lawrence Marchese we leave this bottle of glue to keep his hair just in place.

Twenty-Ninth. Ethel Smith bequeaths all her acquired knowledge on "Rivalry" to Gladys Clifford.

Thirtieth. Robert Wight leaves the position which he has so righteously or otherwise acquired at the head of the lunch line to Clarence Leveillee.

Thirty-First. Florence Wheldon leaves to all forthcoming shorthand pupils her strength to withstand Mr. Campbell's attacks.

Thirty-Second. Fred Rathbun leaves his position as the highest paid man on the lunch Squad to Pete Peterson and Wag Wagner.

Thirty-Third. The Senior Class gives to Miss Hewitt this flat iron to relieve congestion when so many wish to press class gowns hereafter.

Thirty-Fourth. Anna Richter and Marion Roberts jointly bestow on Dorothy Clark their merits of scholarship.

Thirty-Fifth. Lawrence and Luvie McManus, our twins, leave to the Shapiro twins their ability to get along without scrapping much.

Thirty-Sixth. Florence Patenaude leaves the patent on her giggle to Jessie Smith.

Thirty-Seventh. Thelma Bartlett leaves her permanent wave to Frances Palmer.

Thirty-Eighth. Elizabeth Modig leaves her baby stare to Elizabeth Mochack.

Thirty-Ninth. To Miss Dearborn, her fourth period class leaves this muzzle to be used in case of too much talking after the bell rings.

Fortieth. To Miss Grant we leave this badly needed box to keep shorthand papers in.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hand and seal at our residence in the High School of Commerce, city of Springfield, this tenth day of November in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven.

TUNE: "DAWN OF TOMORROW"

VERSE

In the school days of our youth,
We have lived with truth,
That in the days to come
We may know what must be done;
But now from our halls of learning,
Our thoughts of life are turning:

CHORUS

Commerce, our Mother true,
We're loath to leave you
Since you taught us to attain
Skill of hand and tongue and brain;
We will have to say goodbye,
But with a grieving sigh,
To classmates and teachers,
And dear Old Commerce High.

CLAIRE ERARD

June, 1928, Class History

In the early hours of a fall morning in September, 1925, the large steamer Commerce, used solely for educational trips, slipped into the harbor quietly to await the hour when she would welcome hundreds of boys and girls. The sun had sallied forth from beneath the eastern horizon and cast its golden rays on the beautiful ship, furnishing a wonderful picture to the old as well as the new passengers, who were rapidly striding to the scene.

Boarding the ship, the first and second-class passengers, known in many places as Seniors and Juniors, betook themselves to rooms already known by them, while the third-class passengers, we Freshmen, entered inquiringly into the spacious auditorium. Mr. Ellis, the dignified captain, spoke of the three-year trip on which we were soon to embark and of the treasure that diligent work would bring.

In October a festival, to which all had looked forward, was given on the deck by the first-class passengers, the Seniors. This event was the Freshmen Reception. We Freshies were cordially welcomed and certainly glad that we had decided to sail in Commerce.

Many happy hours were spent on deck under the supervision of Miss Fisher, who taught us Danish exercises which were so successful, that a new system was adopted whereby all second and third-class passengers were required to take them as part of their regular Gym. work.

Before we realized it, our first semester as third-class passengers was over. As IA's our class was organized under the leadership of Miss Walker as first mate and Miss Hunt as second mate. We were acquainted with one another by now, so consequently elected the boys and girls as our class officers who we thought were the most capable leaders. They were as follows:

President—Bernardo Campagna Vice-President—Madeline Jones

Secretary—Carrie Woolwich Treasurer—Mary Hoar

Auditor—Mary Wynn

Soon the calendar stated that the date was June—time for vacation. We were to have a two months' rest and as we were near the port of the city of Springfield, Massachusetts, we decided to dock there. Many of us left the steamer for only two weeks, returning for a six weeks' cruise. Our crew, or faculty, also were on leave, so during our six weeks' trip we became acquainted with many new members of the crew.

In the latter part of August, Commerce sailed into port to await our return in September, when we would be second-class passengers—Juniors. The first dance to be held on board after our return was the IIB Social. Faith Walker, one of our class song birds, sang a few selections, and specialty dances were given by Sybil Finklehoff.

The Senior play given in December was "Daddy-Long-Legs" in which Beatrice Watson, our class actress, took the leading part.

We had enjoyed ourselves so much in Springfield during vacation that we again docked there for our Christmas Assembly. This semester, the two Junior classes, as usual, had charge of the assembly to which the members of the Home for Aged Women were invited. Our class also had the honor of being the first to invite the members of the Home for Aged Men to attend the Christmas Assembly. The Glee Club entertained by singing several numbers and Dorothy Gow recited part of the "Birds' Christmas Carol" to the enjoyment of all. Robert Smith, Santa Claus, appeared at the end of the program and presented each guest with gifts.

Again it was time for the election of class officers. The election, under the supervision of the Civics Classes, was held in the polling rooms. Our officers for the coming year were as follows:

President—Bernardo Campagna Vice-President—Margaret Galvin
Secretary—Carrie Woolwich Treasurer—Mary Hoar
Auditor—Beulah Bryant

How swiftly the time passed by. We were soon IIA's. During this semester Sylvia Kazin received the American History medal which is awarded each year to the student most proficient in that subject. Our IIA Social, held in the Gym., was declared the best yet. A short play, "The School Ma'm," was given as entertainment by Lillian Duguay, Walter Syrett, and Jack Roesle, after which dancing followed until 10.30.

There is no need telling how enthusiastic everyone was about the Girls' Gym. Meet which took place in April. Needless to say, our class athlete, Madeline Jones, took part in this meet. After two years of faithful training we at last won the Meet and were awarded the silver cup by our captain, Mr. Ellis.

Time for vacation again! Everyone desired to land in Springfield, so we turned toward the same old port once more. September! Sad to say, this would be our last year as passengers on the steamer Commerce. In October it was our turn to give a reception for the Freshies. We were delighted to do this, as we remembered how queer we had felt when we first boarded the immense ship as third-class passengers. Addresses were given by Captain Ellis and also by Bernardo Campagna, our class president. Margaret Hill sang a solo, and a soft shoe dance was given by Margaret Galvin, Sophie Falk, and Albina Zancan, after which a news film was shown.

One morning we first-class passengers had a special assembly in which Captain Ellis talked to us about our Rating Sheets for the IIA semester. He also stressed the fact that everyone had an opportunity to improve his record before graduation.

This fall was a very busy one as our IIIB Hop also took place. Hallowe'en decorations were used and specialty dances were part of the program.

An executive committee composed of class officers and one representative from each room was elected during one of our fall class meetings. Members of this committee, which was to take charge of all important matters that would need attention before a class meeting could be called, were Margaret Galvin, Chairman, Alice Porteri, Beulah Bryant, Mary Hoar, Ella Miller, Carrie Woolwich, Linwood Regan, Clarence Peterson, and Bernardo Campagna.

Our senior play this year was "Peg O' My Heart" in which Bella Lavoie, Mary Stearns, Gilbert Baron, and Philip Shea, members of our class, took part.

In January we elected class officers for the last time. Our new officers were:

President—Bernardo Campagna Vice-President—Margaret Galvin
Treasurer—Mary Hoar Secretary—Elizabeth Robstock
Auditor—Beulah Bryant

This semester Commerce won the Interschool Basketball Championship for the first time in the history of the school. We were proud of the fact that three members of our class were on these teams. These members were Martin Bassell, Ernest Kennedy, and Wesley Hott'n.

Class Day, our last happy school day together, was held on the ninth of April. A country school scene was given as part of our final entertainment.

As the time swiftly approaches when our careers on the steamer Commerce will be over, we are all looking forward to the day when we will be awarded the treasure—our diplomas.

We who are now first-class passengers, will never forget the many pleasures we have had on our three-year voyage before we found this treasure, and will always try to be faithful to our beloved school, upholding its motto,"Integrity and Industry."

Class Prophecy

By Mary Wynn and Elizabeth Robstock, June, 1928, Class

May 10, 1940

Dear Betty:

It is just one week since we returned from our aeroplane trip to Paris. It was quite an exciting trip, and there were six of us: Henry Mooradd, Marie Hamann, Robert Flagg, Mary Scanlon, Paul Versten, and Bessie Lavin. When we were about half way over, Mary Scanlon spied a sinking yacht. Because of our experienced pilot, Linwood Regan, we soon found ourselves beside the distressed. Herbert Daunheimer, sole owner of the yacht, was quite alarmed. The cause of the catastrophe, according to Herbert's version, was the three Sanks, Stella, Josephine, and Lillian. After rescuing the crew, we placed them on the wings of the aeroplane to dry off. Among the rescued were: Claire Houlihan, Sopholia Faniel, Edith Squier, Anna Walsh, and Barbara Hatch. While Linwood Regan was performing one of his nose-dive stunts, Barbara Hatch tumbled off, drawing our attention to her famous swan-dive.

After an incredibly short time we reached Paris, finding many of our Commerce friends there.

Max Silver, our famous business manager in Commerce days, now owns the "Suzette Shop" and has placed Claire Erard and Betty Mochak at the head of his Designing Department. They have gained much distinction as artists.

Hubert Hill is now blossoming as a promising instructor of the famous orchestra, "The Hat Band Serenaders," which consists of Wesley Russell, Bernice Copley, Elva Feltham, Margaret Hayes, George Yarsley, Irene Lambert, and Pearl Baker.

Gilbert Baron, Beatrice Watson, Helen Wheeler, Mary Stearns, and Margaret Galvin have now reached the heights of the greatest stage actors. We went to see a play staged by them in which "Peg" Galvin was the feature dancer. The play had a very happy ending. (Everybody was happy when it was over.)

Faith Walker is an inspiring vocalist. Her favorite song is "Will You Come Back?" And she sings it so charmingly that he comes back quite often. Venetta Cochrane, Bella Lavoie, Helen Schubach and Doris Sherman form the chorus. They get their practice from selling fish.

We also visited the "Youth Preserver Shoppe." Mary Hoar and Jean MacDowell were demonstrating the marvels of "Freckle Cream." In the same shop we found Margaret Sherman advertising "Face Lifter," a lotion which stops the face from falling regardless of how much you talk. (We rushed out and sent a cable to notify Sarah Meyers about this.) Some famous hairdressers in this same shop are Doris Larson, Marjorie MacKinnon, and Bernice Bennett. (They specialize in singeing hair.)

Marty Bassell was recently given the title "Alibi Marty." (They let him tell his fish stories; nobody believes him, anyhow).

Walter Drake and Russell McCullough have beautiful bachelor quarters in a high-class apartment. They always were women haters.

Norma Cowett is a famous writer of popular songs. Her latest one is, "She's a Fisherman's Daughter, But You Can't Get A Line On Her." (This song was dedicated to Marie Healy.)

Oh yes! Evelyn Crowley, Irene Mosher, and Ella Miller have invested all their energy in an acrobatic school. They plan to join a circus as the "Siamese Triplets."

Paul Roberts is taking music lessons. (He has drums in his ears.)

We visited the cutest little "Model Shoppe" and were surprised to see Mary Farrell, Mary Devaney, and Matilda Green strutting up and down in the latest Paris Styles. We couldn't believe it was they until Leicha Dunn, who is the sole proprietor of the shop, assured us it was true.

CLASS PROPHECY (Continued)

We visited Anna Reilly's "Stale-Candy-Shop." She was busy reading a book entitled, "We Irish Must Stick Together," written by the joint authors, Bertha Tallent and Sarah Tollin.

Who do you suppose bumped into us one day? Walter Syrett. He was still searching for rare stamps. He thinks he'll get a reward from the Stamp and Coin Club.

You can't be too careful in Paris when you are driving. I was utterly surprised when two policemen came marching up to me and said I was under arrest. They were such big fellows that at first I dared not say a word, but as I recognized them to be Ernest Kennedy and William Holmes, I finally got courage enough to speak to them. With dazed looks they said they never saw me before, and I learned later they were suffering from loss of memory due to the hard knocks they receive as Paris policemen. Afterwards, I was placed before the magistrate, who was no other than Robert Maloney. I began to have hopes because he recognized me as one of his former schoolmates. For old times' sake, he mentioned to one of his officers, who I later learned was Everett Merrifield, and told him to escort me home.

That little episode did not discourage me. I found more of my friends the next day. "Jackie" Jones and "Bee" Kelley can't remember why they have come to Paris. They think it is because they wish to join the Ziegfeld Follies.

Oh! Such a tragedy! Mildred Goodenow has a set of false teeth now. Her own are all worn out from exposing them to the cold weather. That's what you get for laughing too much, but Esther Griffin knows enough to save her charms. Some day she will be rewarded by meeting the right man.

Bessie May has come to France in order that she may read more books. There isn't enough variety in America for her.

Ethel Martin is now the editor of the "Objectionable" Gazette. She is so particular that there be no errors in her paper, she has hired Ida Walit, "Ruby" Shaw, and Ethel Coady to help her find periods which are written up-side-down.

The "Hocker Sockey" game is the latest fad in Paris. It was originated by Alice Audren, and Delia Brunette.

Ada Lodi and Dorothy Linberg are wanted in every dancing cafe. It takes them only three minutes to wax a floor.

Mildred Gertrude Smith is kept very busy reading letters that should have gone to Mildred Grace Smith, while Mildred Grace is having a fine time by making use of the checks that should have gone to her namesake.

Carrie Woolwich is still a secretary, but to whom? Bernardo Campagna, who is ambassador to France, has felt that he needed her for his private secretary.

Eleanor Cheyne is still considered a young maiden because of that school-girl-complexion.

Mary and Margaret Brady have received first prize in a contest given by Clarence Peterson for eating the largest amount of Boston baked beans in the shortest amount of time. Remember the beans they consumed Friday noons in the Commerce Lunchroom?

Lillian Bousquet and Rose Aaron are under Dr. Emanuel Spiro's care. Their eyes have given out since they have taken up dressmaking. They are thinking of making Evelyn Boyce, "Dot" Greaves, and Evelyn Clark, who are their helpers, do all the work hereafter.

You remember "Dot" Gow, don't you? Well, she is noted for her famous speech on "All the world's a stage, and the speaking parts are given to women."

Beulah Bryant and Gertrude Lapine have finally moved from Ludlow to Paris. They think Paris is a fine quiet place to rest in.

Mary Walsh and Emma Vrana are trying to persuade Anna Walsh and Grace Collins to eat only the holes in all doughnuts, thereby reducing their weight.

Carl Miller gives his daily street corner address while his colleague, Ellsworth Woodell, takes the collection.

Kind-hearted Walter Kenney is making a collection of tooth picks to send to the starving Russians.

Beatrice Carroll has become an efficient kindergarten teacher. Her pupils, who are Burton Acker, Raymond Patnaude, Ellen Peterson, and Janet Wiseman, are so advanced in music that they are taught (tuneless tones.)

Viola Heathe wants to be a millionaire's wife or a prima donna, it makes no difference which.

Pearl Zundell is kept very busy teaching "Mother Goose Rhymes" to Edwin Nystrom and David Aronson.

Rose Supple is having a terrible time trying to get a hat large enough to fit her head. Don't get excited—she didn't get hit there but won first prize in a composition contest, and this is the result.

Agnes Grant and Virginia Thomas have taken up the study of efficient saleswomen. They don't seem to find any.

William Smyth was recently elected president of one of the largest savings banks in Paris. He was given this honor because of being an intimate acquaintance of one of their heavy investors, James Sullivan, who invests a cent every single day of the year.

James Bryan is one of the chief executors of the "Royal Order of Do Nothing." They are allowed to sleep in peace.

Sylvia Rosenberg's highest aim is to play the piano like Rubenstein. Here's to her success!

Emma Dearborn still enjoys thinking—just thinking.

Catherine Hughes is the sought-after woman by all the men in Paris. She recently won a beauty prize, and out of six thousand girls she was voted the prettiest. She received great praise from Philip Davis, who awarded her the prize of a large box of "Davis Baking Powder."

Winthrop Spencer is still a quiet and righteous fellow. (He drives a straight-eight and plays an upright piano).

Leonard Wagner and Irving Wainstein find that the greatest pleasure in motion pictures is to see a woman with her mouth open and yet not hear her talk.

All that Anne Golan wants is a million dollars and a little spending money, so as not to be compelled to work.

Violet Brownhill's great failing is bashfulness, which is unfortunate for her. But we know she will outgrow that.

Elizabeth Meyer thinks life would be bliss if the time would come when women voted and earned the living, while men did the cooking and the housework.

Thelma Lacy is an English teacher. We extend sympathy to her pupils.

I heard that Elizabeth Murphy and Violet Quaglin fell hard for two French Counts. It was a case of love at first sight and a falling out at first slight.

Can you imagine! Jack Rubin, Henry Ruggeri, and Lionel Mathieu are the head members of the "United Brotherhood of Loafers." Frank Falcone is doing his best to gain admittance into this club.

The French law has given Bernard Murphy the right to open his wife's letters. But she is a strong-minded politician and he hasn't the courage.

Rose Greene's highest aim is to starve, and as she is going to be a "kitchen mechanic," of course she will succeed.

Abia Filiault is a reformer. He makes stump speeches securing votes for women.

Robert Wight's highest ambition is to be a basketball player, but as it is too much work, he will be a fortune teller.

Dorothy Mitchell would like to be a governor or a kindergarten teacher. But it is my opinion that she will do housework in a family of two.

Joesph Luke's heart's desire is to inherit wealth or be a civil engineer.

Annie Nietupski and Sophie Lewenczuk think the theater would be the most popular form of amusement if it were not for one serious objection—the price.

Oh, Betty, but the biggest surprise of all was to find our faculty adviser, Miss Eleanor Walker, still tinkering on her little green Chevrolet—it won't run yet—it's still a standing joke.

The rest of the news and gossip I'll leave until my next letter to you.

Will of the Class of June, 1928

Know all Men by These Presents, that we, the Class of June, 1928, of the High School of Commerce, in the City of Springfield, county of Hampden, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind, memory, and judgment, do hereby make, declare, and publish this our last will and testament and do earnestly desire that these, our last requests, be carried out as hereinafter directed:

First. To Mr. Carlos B. Ellis, our principal, we give and bequeath our most sincere respect and continued appreciation for his wise guidance throughout our years at Commerce.

Second. To Miss Eleanor M. Walker, our faculty adviser, we give and bequeath our heartfelt gratitude for untiring efforts in all of our activities.

Third. To Miss Madeline C. Hunt, our assistant faculty adviser, we leave our deepest thankfulness for her help to us at all times.

Fourth. To all members of the faculty, who have never failed to be our friends and advisers, we bequeath our sincere thanks for the help rendered us.

Fifth. We leave our keen discerning powers to all future Commercites to assist them in distinguishing between the Danforth faculty twins.

Sixth. "Marty" Bassell leaves to "Bobby" Elliot this ruler to enable him to rule with an iron hand in all gym classes.

Seventh. Max Silver leaves his knowledge on the subject "How to Make Them Smile While Paying You Money" to bill collectors, future business managers of "Caduceus," and Mr. Walker.

Eighth. To all his future classes we leave this scale on which to weigh the falsity and truth of Mr. A. H. Smith's fish stories. We appoint Mr. Parmenter official weigher.

Ninth. Sarah Meyers leaves her unfailing good humor to Miss Strong.

Tenth. We bequeath this rocking-horse to Mr. T. M. Pease to keep him in training for his broncho-busting activities during the summer.

Eleventh. Gilbert Baron leaves his high opinion of himself to "Chick" Lynes.

Twelfth. To Miss Eleanor Jefferson we leave this microscope to enable her successfully find still more errors on all submitted sheets.

Thirteenth. The whole class leaves all of its dignity and superiority complex to John Turner, to be used upon the occasion of his present stock's running out.

Fourteenth. Miss Grant's former seventh period class leaves this pair of Cotton Indestructible socks, for which she has expressed a desire.

Fifteenth. To anyone who dares to try to blush as he does, James Bryan leaves a can of red paint.

Sixteenth. We leave this red flag to Mr. S. O. Smith in recognition of his initials.

Seventeenth. "Peg" Galvin leaves "that something about her" which attracts the opposite sex, to Janet Guest.

Eighteenth. We entrust this wooden nickel to Mr. Potter as the first donation to a fund for soap for the school.

Nineteenth. To Mr. William Brooks we leave this barrel of dynamite as an aid in his various attempts to blow up the school.

Twentieth. Margaret Hayes sorrowfully leaves her place in the office to all future admirers of Miss "Terry" Bianchi.

Twenty-First. To Mrs. Madsen we leave this ticket to the House of 1001 Laughs at Riverside Park. May she use it to the best advantage.

Twenty-Second. To Mr. Don Melville we leave our assembly seats for use in receiving the crowds that claim his attention immediately after report cards are distributed.

Twenty-Third. Madeline Jones leaves her "Dutchie" hair cut as an additional style for Betty Varanka to try.

Twenty-Fourth. "Pete" Peterson and "Wag" Wagner jointly bequeath their ability to stick together to the Siamese twins.

Twenty-Fifth. Walter Drake leaves his ability to court two girls at once and not make either of them jealous to Lucien Lemieux.

Twenty-Sixth. For the benefit of all future English 5 classes, we leave to Mr. Chatto this list of suggestions of new subjects for debate.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hand and seal at our residence in the High School of Commerce, City of Springfield, this ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

Suggestions

The Class of June, 1928, suggests that:

Ralph Lewis give the boys a tip on where he gets his ability to pick out such wonderful ties.

Mr. A. H. Smith purchase a double door to put between his room and the next so that the results of his jokes won't disturb his neighbors.

Someone find a fellow that Rose Green won't class as "punk."

Miss Grant purchase a book on "How to Argue."

Mr. Parmenter write a book relating his achievements at camp during the war.

Barbara Hoffman give the rest of the girls a few suggestions about winning over the opposite sex.

Mr. Perkins donate his curly locks to his bride—what woman doesn't want a natural marcel?

Miss Rankin change her system of marking so that we will all get A's.

Leicha Dunn write a book on how she gets by.

"Phil" Davis get a book on "How to Overcome Bashfulness."

Miss Halligan give the students a lesson on how to read, memorize, and tell facts for hours at a time.

Dorothy Gow memorize the old proverb "Children should be seen and not heard."

"Peg" Galvin pass on her ability to do her homework in the last minute before recitation.

Beatrice Watson and Mary Stearns form the habit of regular attendance before accepting a position.

Sarah Meyers tell the rest of us where she gets all her arguments.

Miss Maurer take her time—who wants to hurry all the time?

The High School of Commerce

FAREWELL TO COMMERCE

The time has come to make decisions:
  Will we drop or hold our visions
That we cherished in the past,
  That we vowed would always last?
For soon we'll have to say good bye
  To our Dear Old Commerce High;
To pals and friends so very dear
  We'll say our sad farewells this year;
To faculty, who bore the brunt
  Of our every teasing stunt,
Who helped us out, through thick and thin,
  Taught us how to fight and win!
We'll leave behind familiar sights—
  The lighted halls on Social Nights,
The stairways and the corridors
  We trod upon in twos and fours.
We'll miss these things, I'm sure we will
  As we pass through Life's long mill.
We'll often think of a bygone day
  When we were carefree, happy, gay,
Laughing and talking with Ruth and Bill,
  Strolling down the State Street hill.
So we'll travel each his way,
  Some will work while others play.
One will lose, another gain,
  Some find gladness, others pain.
We all will have our hopes and fears,
  To-day a smile, to-morrow tears;
But in the end we'll all succeed,
  If we follow our motto in thought and deed.

Seniors' Adieu

Harken, ye class mates!
Excuse makers all,
Fat ones, and thin ones,
Short ones, and tall.
In rhyme and in rhythm
We'll tell in this verse
A few of our good points
Before we disperse.

Just three years ago
We pursued our career
'Mid many a heart throb
And perhaps a stray tear.
We wearied Miss Walker,
Mr. Ellis as well,
Were late for our classes
And rushed out pell-mell.

The next year we grew up
A little bit more!
Won fame in our gym meet—
We had "pep" galore.

Our class is a good one,
We've many a star—
Musicians and athletes—
You know who they are.

We've bookkeepers clever,
And speed typists, too,
And many a class wit
To watch what we do.

As Seniors we're jolly
And not petty grinds,
Mix play with the work of
Improving our minds.
So with the accomplishments
Listed to date,
Three cheers for our class
Of June '28.

INTER-SCHOOL CHAMPIONS

Hail to the conquerors! The High School of Commerce 1927-28 Basketball Team was the most successful team in the school's history. It was recognized as one of the best teams in the Connecticut Valley, and superior to all teams, of its class, in Springfield and vicinity.

"Ray" Monahan and "Ev" Todd, who were selected for the All-City Team proved themselves to be most skilled high school players by their accurate basket shooting and fast floor work.

Although these two mentioned were the outstanding players, a good deal of credit, for their success, should be given to their "always faithful" team-mates, "Joe" Izenstein, "Stewie" Dennis, and "Marty" Bassell, for it was Izenstein and Bassell who carried the team through the remaining games after "Ray" Monahan, "Ev" Todd, and "Stewie" Dennis were ineligible because of graduation or over the age limit.

BASKETBALL (Continued)

The remaining players who did well during the season were Ernest Kennedy, who played a fine guard position, "Al" Mastrianni, John Monahan, "Howie" DeRose, and "Wes" Hottin.

The results of the schedule is as follows:

Commerce		Opponents
22	Easthampton	16
41	Tech	27
29	Monson	14
50	Central	18
52	Wilbraham	18
27	Weaver	25
27	Vocational	26
23	St. Thomas	22
32	Tech	29
17	Weaver	43
21	Central	16
13	Holyoke	43
55	Wilbraham	16
17	Turners Falls	29

Hockey, 1928

Robert G. Elliot, Coach
Abby Cox, Assistant Coach

Adrian Sargent, Captain Louis Hurwitz, Manager

The Commerce hockey team had a fairly successful season, winning three and losing six games. The team gave Tech and Central two hard battles, but were unable to defeat them. Captain Sargent was the star player again this season, repeating his fine playing which he performed last season.

"Bobby" Elliot, assisted by Abby Cox, proved to be a very capable coach.

The outstanding players of season are as follows:

Capt.	Adrian Sargent	Left Wing
	Philip Sweeney	Center
	Wesley Piehl	Right Wing
	Clarence Peterson	Left Defense
	Leonard Wagner	Goalie

The second team players were Paul Mead, Stuart Metcalf, Robert Payne, Merton Pomeroy, Ralph Lewis, and George Yarsley.

The following is the schedule and scores of the games played:

Commerce		Opponents
3	Enfield High	2
1	Tech	2
3	Vocational	0
0	Williston Academy	1
0	Central	1
0	Tech	1
0	Vocational	1

Baseball, 1927

"Chief" E. H. B. Myers, Coach Robert G. Elliot, Assistant Coach
Harley Shastany and Beverly Wilson, Captains
Walter McVey, Manager

The Commerce baseball team won two games and lost nine, completing its most disastrous season known, due to misfortune and superior opponents.

It was at the beginning of this season when the rookies elected two captains to lead the team because both of them had been on the team two years and had played a fine brand of baseball. These two fellows were Harley Shastany, catcher, and "Bev" Wilson, pitcher; both proved to be the two outstanding players during the season.

The personnel of the team was as follows:

THE SCHEDULE

Track, 1927

Don Melville, Coach

Hubert Hill, Captain

The 1927 track team proved to be one of the best balanced teams Commerce has ever had. The team lost two hard-luck meets to Holyoke and Enfield and were trounced by New Britain High. However, Commerce did win a good meet against the M. A. C. freshmen. In the meet "Ray" Conlin won two first places in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes; Simons also won first place in the quarter-mile run.

The fellows who did the best for Commerce by winning first places during the season were Leslie Maynard, the high scorer of the season, Howard De Rose, Israel Melinkoff, Howard Simons, Raymond Conlin, Joseph Curran, and Hubert Hill.

The scores of the season's meets were:

New Britain—80	Commerce—19
Commerce—62	M. A. C. Fresh—46
Enfield—46	Commerce—44
Holyoke—45 1-3	Commerce—44 2-3

In the interschool meet Tech placed first, Commerce second, and Central last. In this meet Hubert Hill of Commerce won the quarter-mile championship.

Soccer, 1927

KENNEY, KNIGHTLEY—Outside Left
SWEENEY—Inside Left
KENNEDY—Center Forward
SIBLEY—Inside Right
MERRIFIELD—Outside Right

The Commerce Soccer team with but three veterans broke into the win column twice, once against Wilbraham the score being 2–0 and the final game that proved to be an easy victory by the score of 8–2 against West Springfield. The best game was between Tech and Commerce. Two overtime periods were necessary to break the tie score, these being played when almost completely dark. An illegal goal made by Tech, and not called by the referee, gave them the hard fought game. Captain Kennedy was the leading scorer and best player throughout the season.

The High School of Commerce football team with but four veterans, fought a losing battle to break into the 1927 win column. The team suffered a most disastrous season with five losses and one tie.

FOOTBALL (Continued)

The strong Holyoke team gave the Crimson an aerial attack which netted the Purple two touchdowns. It was Holyoke who scored the highest number of points against Commerce, the final score being 14–0.

Tech opened the interschool tourney by defeating the Crimson 13–0. One feature of the game was the Crimson's march down the field for 80 yards that brought them to the Tech six yard line, but this is as far as they went. Tech held the line every time.

The Central game could have been called a swimming meet as far as water was concerned. Central was able to swim and slide to a 13–2 victory over the Commerce eleven.

Captain Fredette's grit and fighting spirit helped to keep the Crimson team fighting to the last. Ralph Lewis, Raymond Monahan, and Maynard played well for Commerce with their timely reverse, shifty plays and tackles.

SO SILLY!

Stenographer: "Where's the boss—not down yet?"
Office Boy: "He's sick and won't be here today."
Stenographer: "My goodness! What will I do?"
Office Boy: "With the boss away, you ask a question like that!"
